3. It isn't often that we're given the privilege of watching history unfold before our eyes. But the privacy judgement handed down by a nine-judge bench of the Supreme Court is And it's safe to say that the learned judges have in five separate judgments come down on the side of the angels by unanimously declaring that privacy is a fundamental right protected by Article 21 and Part III of the Constitution. To make their position crystal clear, the judges also did a considerable amount of judicial cleaning up and specifically overruled earlier judgments like MP Sharma and Kharak Singh to the extent they held that privacy was not a fundamental right.

- A) that privacy was a concept foreign to India and one enjoyed only by the more affluent classes
- B) that the poor need no civil and political rights and are concerned only with economic well-being
- C) that privacy is a concept that cannot be defined
- D) one that will be scrutinised and interpreted for decades.
- E) None of these

Option D

Explanation: A– The sentence “declaring that privacy is a fundamental right” discards option A

B – Right of privacy is under limelight. Nothing has been said about the poor.

4. The Supreme Court has once again stepped in where successive legislatures have failed to tread. On critical counts of ensuring relief to the individual concerned while also protecting a woman's right and legitimacy as an equal citizen, the apex court's judgment holding instant and irrevocable talaq unconstitutional has rightfully been hailed as historic. Although the Court had, in Shamim Ara versus State of UP, already invalidated triple talaq in 2002, the majority judgment in the latest case takes a significant step forward by underliningunder Article 25 (freedom of religion) of the Constitution. The triumvirate of judges who prevailed over Chief Justice JS Khehar and Justice S Abdul Naseer asserted that since the 1937 Sharia Application Act mentions the word talaq, it was no longer a personal law to escape the scope of the fundamental rights

- A) which had also been challenged through the PIL
- B) that the legislature missed the opportunity to address
- C) that this utterly unjust practice is not protected
- D) unearths deep-rooted cultural and structural causes
- E) None of these

Option C

Explanation:

Since article 25 says about freedom of religion and the apex court's earlier verdict of holding irrevocable talaq “unconstitutional”, makes option C valid.

5. More than ten days after over 70 children having died at the Baba Raghav Das Memorial Hospital in Gorakhpur, it is still not clear what caused the colossal loss of lives. The paucity of oxygen cylinders, which led to 30 children dying on August 10 and 11 according to official reports, seems to have been the immediate factor. The run-up of events leading to this situation needs to be established by an independent inquiry and the guilty punished. This points to a systems failure in the hospital, which is incidentally a major healthcare provider for about 15 districts in Uttar Pradesh, besides people from neighbouring Nepal. In the last one week, the supposed role of Japanese encephalitis has come into the picture, even as it became evident

- A) that there are only 25 medical colleges, public and private

10. Unlike most other industries, automakers were an ecstatic lot last month when the GST was rolled out. Strangely enough, the new tariff structures put in place by the GST Council ended up lowering the effective tax rates on large cars and SUVs, from 50-55 per cent to 43 per cent. This was on account of the Council fixing the cess component on these vehicles at 15 per cent, on a 28-per cent basic GST. This ran counter to the popular view, reiterated by the Courts, that car buyers must be actively dis-incentivised from acquiring large diesel-guzzling vehicles. But it turns out that this celebration was premature. last week, the GST Council has pegged the cess for large cars and SUVs at 25 per cent, taking their effective GST rate to 53 per cent.

- A) clearing up stocks
- B) repricing of the carried forward inventory
- C) pinning its hopes on Make in India
- D) Tweaking the cess component again
